

Gateway to Beautiful Living

PORTA MOBILI

Our Brand Collection

At Porta Mobili, we believe the most beautiful homes are never built from a catalogue alone. They are thoughtfully curated around the people who live in them. By understanding how each client lives, what they value, and what they aspire to, we curate the best of contemporary "European" living—bringing together exceptional furnishings, materials, and design elements to create homes that feel timeless, personal, and distinctly theirs.

History

Metal-lite began in 1995 with a clear vision to bring thoughtfully selected, state-of-the-art lighting solutions to the Philippine market.

Today, Metal-lite is a leading importer and distributor of premium European and Asian lighting and home furnishings, serving both professional and decorative applications. It collaborates with globally recognized brands such as Osram, Panasonic, Endo, and Stella, alongside respected interior and furniture names like Dunlopillo, Italdesign, and Hooga.

Among these, PORTA MOBILI stands as a defining expression of Metal-lite's commitment to design-bringing together craftsmanship, functionality, and timeless style in a collection tailored for modern living.

1995

THE BIRTH OF METAL-LITE
Metal-lite Illuminazione Marketing was established.

1999

THE FIRST SHOWROOM
A 3-story company-owned showroom was completed in Dona Imelda, Quezon City.

2002

FIRST PROVINCIAL SHOWROOM
The first provincial showroom was established in Banilad, Mandaue City, Cebu and Davao showroom followed.

2003

BIRTH OF THE FURNITURE BRAND
Italdesign was established as the company's first furniture brand, offering South East Asia sourced home collections.

2005

YOUR PARTNER FOR LIGHT
Metal-lite became a recognized supplier of imported lighting systems, expanding its role within the industry.

INTRODUCING PORTA MOBILI
As Metal-lite grew into a leading importer of lighting and home furnishings, Porta Mobili was established as its dedicated arm for European furniture.

Vision

To become the Philippines' most trusted partner in creating meaningful homes.

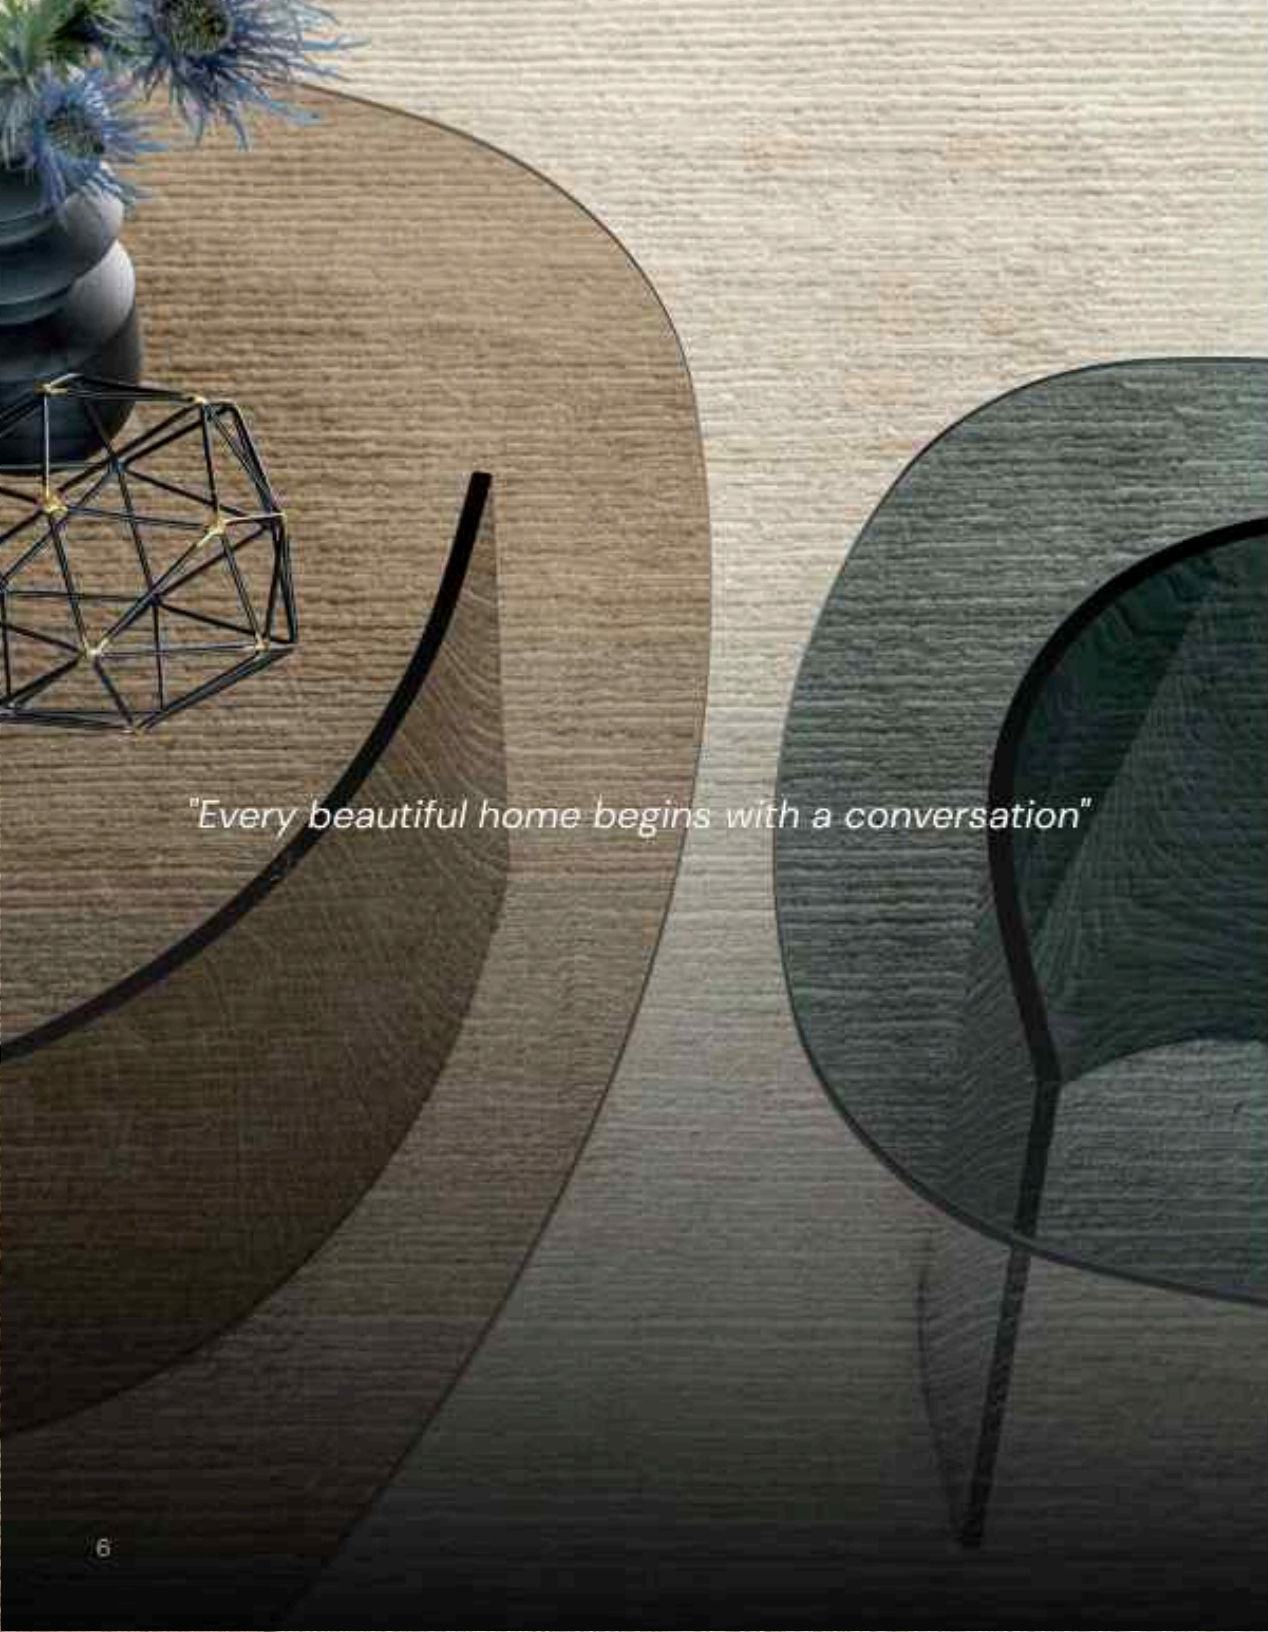

We aspire to be recognised not simply for the brands we represent, but for the relationships we build, the expertise we provide, and the partnerships we nurture over time.

Mission

We help homeowners and design professionals build spaces imbued with meaning, intention, and sense of authenticity by:

sparking thoughtful conversations,
introducing innovative and original design ideas,
and offering expertise woven in empathy and compassion.

"Every beautiful home begins with a conversation"

Brand Philosophy

The foundation of every beautiful home is an open exchange of ideas. A shared vision. A dream.

Our recommendations are informed by your story.

A meaningful conversation reveals far more than dimensions or budgets. It reveals routines and rituals. Dreams and Memories waiting to be made.

We believe that design expertise is best accompanied by understanding and empathy. these will shape every recommendation that follows.

Because the most beautiful homes are never designed around furniture. They are designed around the people who call them home.

ETRO

AN ITALIAN STORY

1968

The House is founded in Milan

Gerolamo Etro launches his first production of high-end textiles. Driven by his passion for travel, art and culture, he discovers and collects exotic treasures, inspiring the iconic Paisley shawl.

1981-
1984

Furnishings, leather goods and the first bags

ETRO's textile line debuts in 1981, followed in 1984 by leather goods and the first bags collection, expertly shaped in Paisley-patterned jacquard fabric.

1990s

Global ready-to-wear expansion

The unveiling of the ETRO men's and women's ready-to-wear lines accelerates global growth, establishing the brand as a distinctive lifestyle house.

2021-
2025

New leadership, licensing and global residences

ETRO announces strategic partnerships, expands into eyewear and home fragrances, and launches ETRO Branded Residences. In 2025, a consortium of investors acquires a minority stake, supporting the brand's next chapter of international growth.

A family-born vision evolving into a global lifestyle house.

THE FOUNDER GEROLAMO ETRO

Gerolamo "Gimmo" Etro, before becoming a visionary entrepreneur was a booklover and a perceptive art collector. The brand was born from his passion for fabrics and textiles, love for beauty and decoration which was mixed with his sensitive approach to travel, art and culture.

His love for French Paisley comes from his childhood, a grandma's robe decorated with Paisley print that, still today, identifies the brand.

A harmonious balance between contemporary elements and cultural accents.'

ETRO is New Tradition: the perfect summation of artisanal know-how and creative experimentation. Extending its fashion heritage, the collection merges classic influences with contemporary design and rich cultural expression.

Developed with Oniro Group, it unites creative vision with expert Italian craftsmanship, defined by iconic fabrics, refined details, and a distinctive design language. Each piece reflects a dynamic, cultured approach to modern living where creativity and sophistication meet.

THE CODES

ETRO's aesthetic is built on iconic and recognizable codes.

ETRO is one of the most notable Italian fashion houses with a strong and unique DNA. Starting from the family's curiosity and love for history, art, and different cultures, it has created a language, a style, a philosophy that is totally independent from all other brands.

ETRO's emblematic codes are always enshrined in its creations, ensuring its uniqueness is always recognized.

OPUS

ARMCHAIR

Defined by modern volumes and refined detailing, the Opus line – comprising chair, armchair and stool – expresses the ornamental spirit of the new collection through a rich and cultivated vision of contemporary comfort. The seat reinterprets classic capitonné with a renewed sensibility, while an upholstered roll characterizes both the armrests and the backrest. Here, an elegant twisted cord trimming along the sides and a delicate tassel introduce movement and tactile sophistication. Decoration becomes a structural and expressive language, rooted in ETRO's eclectic identity, where artisanal savoir-faire meets storytelling.

Structure in Tineo dyed solid beech wood.

Seat in multilayer wood with padding in multi-density polyurethane foam, button tufting and raised piping. Bolster cushions on the armrests with padding in multi-density polyurethane foam.

RIFLESSI

DESIGNED AND MADE IN ITALY

exclusively distributed by PORTA MOBILI

Riflessi creates stylish furnishings, combining shapes whose beauty is measured by the practical needs typical of contemporary homes. High-quality materials, attention to detail, and "tailored" customization-where each piece can become a tailor-made work of art-make Riflessi a point of reference in Italy for furniture.

With a focus on quality materials, tailored design, and continuous research, Riflessi produces furniture that reflects individual lifestyles while maintaining a clean, contemporary elegance. Supported by a network of skilled local artisans and suppliers, the brand champions sustainable, locally sourced production and preserves Italian manufacturing heritage.

RIFLESSI

Riflessi reflects a clear vision where innovation, craftsmanship, and contemporary Italian design come together in pieces that elevate everyday living. Each creation balances form and function, offering refined solutions that adapt seamlessly to modern spaces while expressing a distinct sense of style.

For more than fifty years, Tisettanta has interpreted the evolution of living through a vision that combines design culture, manufacturing excellence, and a contemporary sensibility. Since its beginnings, the company has built its identity through collaborations with some of the most influential figures in Italian design, turning this dialogue with leading masters into a lasting heritage of expertise and values. Throughout its history, Tisettanta has worked alongside renowned designers and architects such as Carlo Bartoli, Gae Aulenti, Antonio Citterio and Marco Zanuso—personalities whose work has helped shape the language of international design. These encounters generated projects, ideas, and perspectives that nurtured an ongoing exploration of the balance between form, function, and innovation. Today, this legacy remains at the heart of the company's identity: a design-driven approach rooted in attention to detail, manufacturing excellence, and the ability to interpret the changing ways people live, while staying connected to the finest traditions of Italian design.

Building on this heritage, Tisettanta continues to develop collections that combine aesthetic refinement with everyday functionality. The company's approach is guided by a commitment to timeless design rather than passing trends, creating furnishings conceived to endure both in quality and relevance. Through continuous investment in research, materials, and production processes, Tisettanta pursues solutions that meet the needs of contemporary living while preserving the authenticity, craftsmanship, and attention to detail that have always distinguished its work.

Helmut Newton, Metropolis library
1995

This period gave rise to some of the most emblematic expressions of Tisettanta's identity, including the Metropolis bookcase, the Centopercento wardrobe, and the celebrated campaign photographed by Helmut Newton. Together, these objects and images became enduring symbols of the brand, encapsulating its distinctive approach to design, culture, and communication—an identity that continues to resonate today.

Every Tisettanta solution begins with a clear idea: to go beyond the logic of standard products and offer truly bespoke solutions. Whether it's bookcases, wardrobes, kitchens, or paneling, each project is developed in collaboration with architects and designers to meet the unique needs of every client.

We design essential, intelligent furnishings - built to endure over time without losing meaning. Objects conceived to engage with architecture, adapt to different settings, and accompany the evolution of living spaces.

A sober yet bold style, defined by a balance between form and function, material and vision. In every environment, we seek the meeting point between aesthetics and real life. Details, atmospheres, volumes become the expression of a clear idea of living: contemporary, personal, authentic.

We are the timeless new.

StoneLeaf was founded in 2013.
Founded by Alexandre and Emmanuel DAHDI, it is now the benchmark in the natural stone leaf market. Eager to create a joint project, Emmanuel and Alexandre travel to the four corners of the world in search of innovative products and new processes.

In the course of their research, they studied and developed the manufacture of this innovative material, offering numerous possibilities and advantages never before seen in natural stone.

Creating a benevolent and virtuous business model, focused on eco-responsibility. Since its creation in 2013, StoneLeaf has been striving towards a responsible and benevolent business model, which ensures that at every stage we create a positive ecosystem with our customers, suppliers, partners, community and the planet, at every level of the value chain.

Environmental impact is an essential link in the chain, and when it comes to minimizing it, mastering logistics is an essential link in the value chain. Everyone's impact is important, and StoneLeaf is well aware of this.

Stoneleaf

Stoneleaf reveals the natural beauty and versatility of real stone reimaged for modern interiors. Each sheet combines lightweight innovation with authentic texture, offering flexible, durable solutions that bring depth, character, and refined elegance to any space.
